Nancy Wynne Attends the Neilson-Reath Wedding.
She Hears of Reception at Charlotte Cushman Club

WELL, one of the very prettiest weddings I have ever attended in my life took place yesterday at noon, and it was Alberta Reath's and Harry Neilson's. I always thought Alberta would make an exquisite bride, but I have never seen such a joyous, lovely, glowing child as she looked in her exquisite gown of shimmering cloth of silver, with its long, straight train, which was so prettily arranged at the back of her dress in a sort of loose-blown effect, instead of the straight-from-the-shoulder court train.

The white color scheme of the wedding was lovely. Alberta has always liked rose color, and her bridesmaids' frocks were soft, drowsing shades of pink and lavender, cream de chine, and broderied in white crystal with a fringe of crystal at the edge of the skirt and she wore a bunch of gardenias. Mrs. Valentine's gown was of cream colored lace. There were about 160 guests mostly of the debutantes set and a buffet supper was served. The party was given at the Whittemarsh Hunt Club and was certainly a delightful affair.

NANCY WINNIE.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Elliston Perot Bissell, of Germantown, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Tunis, of Paoli, will give a tea at the Acorn Club on Friday afternoon, November 22, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Dale Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Wurts Wilson, of 1708 Locust street. Mrs. Wilson and her daughter, Margaret, will be the ushers.

And Pancoast, really I think it is, has the deepest thing to have him give Alberta in marriage, for Pan is a couple of years younger than his sister, and fact, he was at St. Paul's last year, and I do not know if he has gone to college this year, but he is certainly no more than eighteen, if he is that, and he did look so handsome and happy in his tuxedo and white spats.

It was altogether just lovely, and the reception at the Ritz was great, for you saw every one you knew and everybody was so happy about it. It's a real love match.

Mrs. Reath looked perfectly stunning in a gown of bright Alice blue, and her hat of dark blue veiled had a shaded feather of blue and mauve. Mrs. Neilson Harry's mother, was entirely in gray, with an ostrich feather in her hair.

The two small Madeira children who came in with their grandfather and grandmother Neilson pretty nearly put the ceremony out of business. And as for the ushers, especially those on the Neilson side of the chancel! Well! how they kept their faces straight I don't know, and to tell the exact truth, they did!

The diversions started shortly after the boys had arrived, before the bridal party came in. Suddenly one of the boys saw someone in a side pew he knew and he cheered loudly between exclamation notes: "Hello, Bob!"

Then there was the big wedding march, and out came the bridegroom and his best man. As the bridegroom turned and looked toward the bridal party, the same lively young gentleman, the elder of the two nephews engaged him in conversation and showed him that he had a brand new pair of white kid gloves for the bride.

After the wedding, while the bride and bridegroom responded as cleanly and distinctly as any I have ever heard. By this time however, young Master Madeira decided the party had gone far enough, and as the bridegroom was about to put the ring on the bride's finger a small voice piped up: "Wait, when do we get the reception?" And it was then that usher had the trial of his lives to keep from guffawing loudly with mirthful glee. And his grandmother, Mrs. Harry Rosengarten had a wonderful laugh.

THE Charlotte Cushman Club has sent out invitations for a reception on Friday afternoon to meet Miss Doris Keane, who is now playing here. I am glad those delightful and interesting girls are coming up again. You know the club is now at 10th Street and grows in popularity and usefulness each month.

THE debutante parties yesterday included a tea and a dance. Babs Clayton made her bow at the tea and was a picture. She is a tall girl, 5' 11", took a Louis XIV model which she got in France this last summer, and it was of white brocaded satin. The frock had a crystal head trimming and was made with the new tight bodice and full skirt; there was a small bunch of flowers at the waist. Mrs. Clayton looked handsome in a gown of black and blue beaded material over black satin and Mary Clayton Earle, Babs' sister, wore a beautiful gown of black and white satin.
